CMHA NDIS & Mental Health Conference 2020

NDIS and Mental Health: A national conversation about what comes next
30th and 31st March 2020 at the Adelaide Convention Centre

WHO DO WE WANT?

Are you a psychology, social work, nursing, or allied health student?
Are you a carer? A person with Lived Experience of mental illness?

WHAT IS IT?

The NDIS conference is coordinated by the Mental Health Coalition of SA in partnership with Community Mental Health Australia (CMHA) with a focus on recovery and psychosocial disability. With the NDIS transition is nearing completion this is a time for review and looking forward to the future. How well is NDIS meeting the needs for participants living with a primary psychosocial disability? What innovative approaches have been taken and how can we improve service delivery?

We also want to think about the interface of NDIS with other services and supports. How is this working with the mental health system, housing, social and community supports? How far have we come in supporting people to enjoy their human rights? How do we best deliver consistent and high-quality disability, mental health and other supports in the community, that meet individual, family and community expectations?

WHAT WOULD I HAVE TO DO?

We are looking for volunteers to help out at our registration desk, act as point of contact for conference delegates, and generally help us to keep things running smoothly.

WHAT'S IN IT FOR ME?

In exchange for....you get to experience the two days of the conference free of charge. Find out about innovative NDIS and mental health initiatives from around the country, meet specialists in their field and develop your professional networks.
